Rocio
Rocio Chavez (she/her) is running for SCASLA president in the upcoming 2021-2022 school year. This will be her third year in the UC Davis Landscape Architecture program in which she has built strong relationships with both peers and staff.

Throughout her academic career, Rocio has had many leadership experiences that have allowed her to grow professionally and personally. From her many involvements, she has gained a strong sense of understanding the people’s needs and concerns. From these experiences she has developed a passion for helping her community.

With a strong knowledge in sustainability, she plans to integrate more of these practices into our LA+ED program. She hopes that together, we can design a greener tomorrow.

As a co-founder of the Justice, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (JEDI) council, Rocio is better equip to work with staff to meet the needs of her fellow peers. From this involvement, she understands the barriers that need to be overcome in order to create an inclusive learning environment, but it’s a challenge she is ready to take on.

As President, Rocio’s goal is to represent her community by using her knowledge of effective communication, sustainability, and equity. She wants to cultivate an inclusive community where her fellow peers have the opportunity to be connected with academic and professional opportunities. Rocio is ready to bring her experiences, skills, and knowledge to better serve the needs of the LA+ED community.
