Website

The syllabus, schedule, reading material, gradebook, and assignment information are available on Canvas.

Live chat and phone support for Canvas is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week for students. To access, click on the "Help" link in the lower left corner of any page, or call UC Davis' Canvas hotline: 844-303-8285. You can also contact IT Express (<http://itexpress.ucdavis.edu/> <http://itexpress.ucdavis.edu/>), 530-754-4357) for assistance.

Please check the website and your e-mail regularly and ask any questions you have about the course schedule, expectations, and due dates.

Schedule

The Schedule is available through Canvas Home Page.

Course Goals and Keys to Success

Course Goals

This course is designed to orient students to the social contexts and environmental

Required Text Books

Berns, R. & White, S. (2023). Child, family, school, community: socialization and support (Eleventh edition). Cengage.

American Psychological Association. (2020). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.).

To access the text books through Canvas and see more information about available options, please click "Bookshelf" in the Canvas menu bar on the left side of the Canvas course site page. To view a list of required textbooks, please click "Reading List" in the Canvas menu bar on the left side of the Canvas course site.

Keys to Success

I encourage active learning. Please participate in lectures, think critically, and contribute to challenges in which humans develop from birth through adolescence.

Students will learn about the socialization that occurs in the interrelationships between children and their:

- family members, including parents and siblings
- peers
- non-parental caregivers
- teachers
- mass media
- community

Students will also consider the effects of these relationships on children's socialization outcomes.

Graded Course Components

Exams (450 points possible)

You will be asked to complete 3 non-cumulative, in-person exams (Exams 1, 2, and 3). Each exam will be worth 150 points.

Paper (460 points possible)

You will be asked to complete one paper composed of three parts. Paper Part 1 will be worth 10 points. Paper Part 2 will be worth 200 points. Paper Part 3 will be worth 250 points.

In this course, we will use TurnItIn, an electronic resource that compares your work to online sources and a comprehensive database of other papers for all writing assignments. TurnItIn creates an originality report identifying whether parts of your work discussions.

Please help cultivate a respectful, safe, and supportive class environment.

Lectures are designed to complement course readings, and may not necessarily overlap with them. Reading assigned materials before the class for which it was assigned and participation during activities and discussions are imperative for success.

Tests will cover information presented in the text book and not lecture, in lecture and not the text, and in both settings.

Participation (50 points possible)

In class and/or on Canvas, students will be asked to participate in five discussions or activities. Your participation grade will be determined by the quality of your work in these discussions and activities. Participation in each discussion or activity will be worth 10 points.

Quizzes (50 points possible)

On Canvas, students will be asked to complete five quizzes. You will have two opportunities to take each quiz. For each quiz taken twice, the higher of the two scores will be retained and included in your course grade.

match or are similar to any of their sources. The work submitted to TurnItIn will be retained as source documents in the TurnItIn reference database to be used solely for the purpose of checking future submitted work for originality. Please do not use artificial intelligence programs like ChatGPT in the process of producing assignments for the course. For more information, please visit

Course Grade Calculation

To reward effort and student assets, the course is built on a point system instead of a percentage-based system. A student who earns 1000 points in this course will be considered to have earned full credit. However, it is possible to earn a total of 1010 points.

A student who earned full credit on every test (3 exams x 150 points/exam = 450 points), full credit on Paper Part 2 and Paper Part 3 (450 points), full credit on five Weekly Quizzes (5 x 10 points/assignment), and full credit on five Participation Assignments (5 x 10 points/assignment) would have a course total of 1000 points. However, if that student also submitted Paper Part 1 (10 points), this student would have a course total of 1010 points. This means that a student would not need full credit on every course component to earn 1000 points total.

Grading Scale

Letter Grade	Points
A	930 through 1000+
A-	900 through < 930
B+	870 through < 900
B	830 through < 870
B-	800 through < 830
C+	770 through < 800
C	730 through < 770
C-	700 through < 730

D+	670 through < 700
D	630 through < 670
D-	600 through < 630
F	< 600

Policies

e-mail

Your TAs and I will make every effort to respond to each e-mail within two weekdays.

We recommend e-mailing us directly instead of using the Canvas messaging tool. To maintain a quick response time, e-mails should be brief. When e-mails exceed 6 lines or require long responses, we may request that you attend office hours to discuss the topic. Please include HDE104 in the subject line of your e-mail to decrease the chance that it gets filtered into junk mail.

Submitting Assignments

Please submit work on Canvas according to assignment instructions. It is your responsibility to confirm that each assignment has been submitted correctly and is available in the Canvas system.

Unsuccessful attempts to submit assignments do not count as submissions, and if an assignment is not submitted correctly, points will be deducted according to course policy. If your assignment is not visible to us on Canvas, you will receive point deductions according to course policy.

If you have questions about successful assignment submission, please contact Canvas or IT Express.

Exams

Exams will cover material that is presented in lessons, course reading material, and on the Canvas course site. Material covered in one type of course material (e.g., lessons, text, Canvas materials) but not in the other types of course material may appear on tests.

Students are responsible for knowing the dates and times of exams (found in the course schedule). Unless you experience a documented emergency at the time of the exam, you must obtain prior permission from the instructor to make alternative arrangements to receive credit for the exam. In the absence of such permission, the exam grade will be 0.

No make-up exams will be scheduled or accepted without a certified medical or documented family emergency excuse. Special arrangements will be made only to the extent that these arrangements are justifiable given the documentation. The instructor will decide what arrangements are justifiable. In fairness to the class as a whole, we can make no exceptions to this policy.

Lessons

Quizzes will not be accepted after the due date under any circumstances. If your Paper Part 1, Paper Part 2, Paper Part 3, or a Participation assignment is not submitted on time or is not submitted correctly, you will have the opportunity to submit it for partial credit. Assignments submitted within the first 24 hours after the due date and time will be eligible for a maximum of 90% of full credit. Ten percent (10%) of the total possible points for the assignment will be deducted for every 24 hour period past the due date and time. When five 24-hour periods have passed, or when graded assignments are returned to students (whichever occurs first), late assignments will no longer be accepted. In fairness to the class as a whole, there will be no exceptions to this policy.

Academic Honesty

I expect every student to display the highest level of academic honesty. It is your responsibility to know what the University considers academic honesty.

<http://sja.ucdavis.edu/publications.html>) I expect all students to abide the UCD Code of Academic Conduct, i.e., the policies and procedures regarding academic honesty and integrity: "Existing policies forbid cheating on Abbreviated lesson slides are provided on Canvas. These contain few words and most information is conveyed in lessons orally and through class discussions. This method encourages students to summarize information in their own words and think critically, facilitating learning. If you miss an in-person lesson, I recommend asking for notes from a reliable classmate.

To do well in the course, it is necessary to attend and participate in lectures in person.

It is also important to maintain a healthy classroom. Students are encouraged to wear masks, especially if they are vulnerable to illness or caring for others who are vulnerable. If you are sick or test positive for COVID-19, please stay home.

Our classroom is configured to facilitate lecture capture. To the extent that the technology works correctly, lectures will be recorded. Discussion sections will not be recorded. To facilitate your success in the course, please use these recordings as a resource in the case of illness and not as a substitute for in-person attendance.

If you are unsure about a situation, ask your instructor (in this class or any other). More resources on UCD's criteria for academic honesty are available at <https://ossja.ucdavis.edu/code-academic-conduct> (<https://ossja.ucdavis.edu/code-academic-conduct>).

Examples of academic misconduct include: receiving and providing unauthorized integrity. Existing policies forbid cheating on examinations, plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty (see below). Academic dishonesty is contrary to the purposes of the University and is not to be tolerated. A code of conduct for the campus community must exist in order to support high standards of behavior.” Any student who cheats on an assignment or exam will be referred to the Office of Student Support and Judicial Affairs.

receiving and providing unauthorized assistance on examinations, using unauthorized materials during an examination, plagiarism – using materials from sources without citations, using Artificial Intelligence tools to write portions of assignments or find parts of answers to quiz questions, altering an exam and submitting it for re-grading, fabricating data references, and using false excuses to obtain extensions of time.

AB540 and Undocumented Student Center

<https://undocumented.ucdavis.edu>

Built on the foundation of educational equity and opportunity, the AB540 and Undocumented Student Center at UC Davis strives to empower undocumented students, their families and members of the community in being informed leaders and active participants in our communities. The Center strives to educate and build awareness of changing policies affecting California's undocumented population. We acknowledge that immigration status is one aspect of an individual's identity that does not solely define a person or their capacity. We promote a holistic approach to recruitment and retention of students in higher education, taking into account a student's mental, emotional, and financial well-being.

(<https://care.ucdavis.edu/about-us>)

We provide confidential advocacy, support, and healing services to survivors of sexual harassment and all forms of sexual violence, including sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking. We also facilitate prevention programming and professional training, and serve as subject matter experts with regard to victim dynamics, impact of trauma, bystander intervention, and social norm change.

Academic Assistance and Tutoring Centers (AATC)

<https://tutoring.ucdavis.edu>

(<https://tutoring.ucdavis.edu>)

Academic Assistance and Tutoring Centers (AATC) exist to help undergraduate students thrive at UC Davis and beyond. We provide an inclusive and interactive environment where students participate in reinforcing and retaining knowledge in multi-disciplinary writing, math, and science+ through co-curricular academic services provided by both professional staff and peer tutors. We strive to support students in developing the academic competence and confidence that will empower them to succeed at UC Davis.
